DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to an antimicrobial composition comprising at least one neutralizing antibody and at least one anti-inflammatory agent, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1 and class 514, subclass 165.
- II. Claims 22-24, drawn to a method of treating respiratory disease, classified in class 424, subclass 159.1 and 184.1.
- III. Claims 25-27 drawn to a method of protecting against respiratory disease in a patient, classified in class 424, subclass 159.1 and 184.1.

After applicant elects one of groups I-III, applicant must further elect one or more antibodies A-D:

- A) Anti-viral
- B) Anti-fungal
- C) Anti-bacterial
- D) Anti-parasitic

After applicant has elected one of groups I-III and has elected one or more antibodies, A-D, applicant is further required to elect one or more anti-inflammatory agents, i-iii:

- i) an antibody
- ii) a steroid
- iii) pain-killers

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1648

Inventions A-D are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are different classes of antibodies that are structurally and functionally distinct because they are capable of specifically binding to unrelated microorganisms. Therefore, each of the antibodies of groups A-D have different functions and have different effects upon different pathogens.

Inventions i-iii are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to compositions that are completely different structurally. Each of the anti-inflammatory agents work by different pathways that are functionally distinct. Therefore, each of the agents i-iii have different modes of operation and have different functions.

Inventions I and II, III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of group I can be used in materially different processes of groups II or III. Further, each of groups II or III can be practiced with any combination of products in groups A-D and i-iii.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different methods involving completely different populations of subjects. In the method of group II, the population has already been exposed to respiratory disease and is exhibiting symptoms, while the population of group III is free of any respiratory disease pathology. Therefore, each method has different effects on different populations of hosts.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
